

How to create an account on Slide Share

1. Go to the Slide Share website at www.slideshare.net.
2. On the top left hand side of the screen will be a link that says Sign Up, click this link.
3. You will come to a page asking you to create an account. On the page you will find a box asking you to type in a username, password, and email then select an account type. An example of the log-in box is below.

The image shows a registration form for SlideShare. At the top, it says "Get a free SlideShare account" in a teal font, with the subtext "takes less than a minute" below it. The form contains four fields: "Username *" with an empty text input, "Email Address *" with an empty text input, "Password *" with an empty text input, and "Account Type *" with a dropdown menu currently set to "Default". Below these fields is a "Join now »" button.

4. Click join now and you will start on your profile page. Here you can search for presentation topics, begin following a specific person's presentations or start uploading your own presentations.
5. After you have created your account, go back to our wiki and click on the link to access the presentation about wikis.
